

Dear 2010 Connecticut Science Fair (CSF) and Connecticut Junior Science and Humanities Symposium (JSHS) High School Student Participants,

We hope you are excited to participate in the CSF, JSHS, or both this coming March. We are very much looking forward to hearing about the exciting outcomes of your research. We are always amazed by the high quality presentations that you produce!

We want to help make your projects even better. We are offering a joint CSF/JSHS presenters workshop this year at Sacred Heart University on January 30, 2010 from 9-12. The focus of this workshop will be to improve your oral and visual communication skills. We encourage you to attend this FREE workshop. You can register online at www.ctsciencefair.org
